

Renewed Day by Day – A.W.Tozer

“What wicked men do should not disturb the good man’s tranquillity. These things belong to the world outside. It is the inner world that matters, because that is the only world over which we have control and the only one for which we shall be held responsible. The inner world consists of our thoughts and emotions, presided over by our will, While we cannot determine circumstances we can determine our reaction to them. And this is where the battle is fought and the victory won.”
